

Dear Admissions Committee,

RE: RECOMMENDATION FOR MARTIN THIGA WAKABA, PF 33573

Martin is a scholar in the Equity Leadership Program under Equity Bank Limited. Every year the ELP absorbs the best performers in the country as per their Kenya Certificate of Secondary Education examinations performance, and through an intensive internship and mentorship, installs in them requisite skills for their career success. For the first eight months of this year, he worked under my supervision as an intern at the Equity Bank Thika Plaza branch.

Martin joined the branch at the end of January. He was a neat young man whose friendly and warm nature quickly made him a favorite amongst the other staff. I assigned him to the Equitel desk where he was tasked with customer registration and addressing complaints. He quickly found his footing at the desk and his high work rate heavily reduced the workload of his supervisor. Through cooperation and teamwork with university students interning at the desk, our branch was consistently among the top five branches in the country in the issue and replacement of Equitel SIM cards.

Furthermore, he was an avid and flexible learner, making him a key asset at the branch. In February, one of our staff transferred creating a vacancy that left us highly disadvantaged. This because the bank was expected to issue ATM cards of the Inua Jamii program in the next month. Therefore, I assigned Martin to the Accounts Opening desk to serve as the PIN Officer. He nonetheless worked with the general ease of a more experienced member of staff, despite being new to the task. His charisma and care when dealing with the customers made sure that they left the bank satisfied. His speed and accuracy were such that the customers barely queued before being served and thus continued the level of our branch's quality in customer service.

Martin disposition was firmly rooted in the corporate philosophies governing the bank. He showed professionalism and integrity when issuing premium ATM cards to the branch's most prestigious clients. The bar was set even higher when he was further tasked with in-house cheque clearing and addressing custodial issues alongside the buying and selling of shares. He managed to perform all these duties proficiently without failing in either one.

Martin possessed a teamwork spirit that was evident in his relations with his workmates. He was always willing to step in for members of staff who were unable to make it to the branch without neglecting his duties.

Martin was also proactive in his duties to the physical branch itself. He comprehensively did his weekly and monthly snap checks with diligence. They would range from infrastructural to procedural checks such as door maintenance to account opening procedures, as well as how to address or improve them. The result was an improvement in the aesthetic status of the bank and the quality of our customers' experience.

Martin stands out among the various interns I have had a chance to work with. He left an impressive impact, and I thank him for his service. He displayed vigor and commitment as he worked with the bank under my guidance and I do not doubt that he will do the same at your school.

Yours faithfully,

Ronah Muthoni,

Operations Manager.

Equity Bank, Thika Plaza Branch.
